

President Advocates Power Development

Outlines Far Flung Program

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—President Truman called today for public power development wherever it is feasible and where private interests are not ready to do the job as cheaply as the government.

Underlining his power policy of a new conference, he circled the nation with an outline of power, navigation and flood control projects he has urged in the past.

He dumped into the middle a vast central valley project to improve the upper Mississippi and Ohio rivers, intended to be carried out gradually in conjunction with development of the Missouri river.

Opposes St. Lawrence Plan
He reiterated opposition to power development of the St. Lawrence separately from the navigation phases of the long-pending Atlantic-to-the-Great Lakes seaway as urged by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

The president said he wants all or nothing on the St. Lawrence project; that power development alone would benefit only Ontario and New York strike, whereas that and simultaneous opening of the waterway to ocean shipping as far west as Chicago and Duluth would benefit the whole United States.

Before elaborating on that part of his message to Congress yesterday calling for expansion of production and transmission of public power, the president:

1. Came out for State Sen. Emory Allison as the Democratic senatorial candidate against Senator Donnell (R-Mo) in the 1950 primaries. He said Allison would make a wonderful senator and he will vote for him in the primary.

2. Would not disclose his budget or tax recommendations in advance of messages on these subjects.

Covers River Development
Answering a question which touched off his oral swing around the country on river development, the president said his message proposal for public power projects in New England covered the long-dormant Passamaquoddy tie-harnessing project in Maine, and also river development.

He said he will send a letter to Congress later on the New England proposition. If the Niagara river development is needed in connection with the St. Lawrence project he will better—but he doesn't think that is favor it—the broader the plan the included now.

Swinging west, he said he wants the Columbia and Snake river projects in the northwest, the central valley project in California, southwest projects; and around to the southeast, the Savannah river and other improvements.

Soft Coal Industry Unites In Try To Get NLRB Action

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Almost all the soft coal industry united today in asking the National Labor Relations Board to try for a Taft-Hartley court injunction to force John L. Lewis' miners back on a full work week.

At the same time, President Truman indicated again to his news conference that he still has no plans to intervene in the United Mine Workers' three-day week system which has pinched production and eaten into stocks around the country.

Chairman J. Monroe Johnson of the Interstate Commerce Commission said that if further emergency action to restrict coal-burning rail service becomes necessary, it probably will mean another cut in passenger service before disturbing the movement of freight.

The ICC has directed a general one-third cut in coal-burning passenger service on railroads with short supplies on hand, effective at midnight next Sunday night. But Johnson said in answer to a query that no similar order affecting freight services is in the works. Serious operating difficulties would result, he said.

Urges Drivers To Get License Tags

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Illinois motorists still using 1949 automobile license plates were urged today to apply promptly for 1950 tags.

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett said car owners heeding his suggestion will avoid the jam that comes when state and city police forces clamp down on those without new plates.

Barrett said tags in the 700,000 series currently are being sold in his Chicago office. Passenger car plates alone are expected to reach the 2,000,000 figure before the year ends.

Greek Cabinet Quits Over Election Timing

Athens, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The cabinet of Premier Alexander Diomodes resigned today and sources close to the palace said tonight the king will ask John Theotokis, speaker of the parliament, to form a new government.

The action of Diomodes was accompanied by the resignations of two top army officers who guided Greece to victory over the communists last summer.

Diomodes' cabinet was wrecked by differences between the Liberals and the Populists (royalists) about the timing of the 1950 parliamentary elections.

Theotokis, the man reportedly slated to try and form a new cabinet, is a former Populist. He resigned from the party Nov. 16 and announced he would be an independent deputy.

He had been one of the big four in the party which holds the largest number of seats in parliament. His action caused a serious break in the party ranks.

The palace sources said a military plane had been sent to Corfu to bring Theotokis to Athens.

It was a mingling of politics and military affairs that led to the resignation of the army officers.

Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, 67-year-old hero of the Grammos campaign that routed the communists, resigned as chief of the armed forces with the declaration that criticism from First Deputy Premier Constantinos Tsaldaris, the Populist leader, was responsible.

Then Lt. Gen. George Cosmas quit his job as chief of staff.

A walkout by 11 Liberal ministers launched the cabinet crisis. Their leader, Second Deputy Premier Sophocles Venizelos, wants the elections held earlier than the scheduled April 9 or 16.

The walkout forced Premier Diomodes, a non-party man who has headed the government since July, to offer King Paul I the cabinet's resignation. A palace communique later announced the king's acceptance.

Venizelos criticized Tsaldaris for a political speaking tour the Populist leader is now making in southern Greece. He charged the tour violated an agreement to postpone the opening of the campaigning.

Czech Government Expels US Student In New Attacks

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Communist government expelled an American student and seized a Czech-language bulletin of the U.S. Information Service today in actions coinciding with fresh attacks upon the United States in the controlled press.

The student ordered out is Savel Klachko, 26, of Palo Alto, Calif., once held in Slovakia five days on suspicion of spying. He came here last summer from Columbia university's school of international affairs on a scholarship to study at Prague university. He left Prague this morning.

The confiscated information service bulletin carried the text of a U. S. note ordering the closing of Communist Hungary's two consulates in the United States, in New York and Cleveland. Hungary and Czechoslovakia are common front allies.

The United States ordered the consulates closed in retaliation for the arrest of Robert A. Vogler, an American business man, on espionage and sabotage charges.

TAXIS GIVE FREE RIDES TO CHURCH

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Free rides to church—that's a Montgomery taxicab company's contribution to the Sabbath.

Worshippers can get transportation to any church in the city without charge between 10 and 11 a.m. on Sunday.

But getting home is the church-goer's own problem. The taxis charge the usual fare on a return trip.

Doctor Pleads Not Guilty In Death, Freed On Bond

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 5.—(AP)—A figure when called before the bar of justice.

New Hampshire provides the hangman's noose or life imprisonment for first degree murder, although the extreme penalty has not been enacted in many years.

In far off Rome, L'Osservatore, the Vatican's newspaper, presumably stating the pope's opinion, cited the fifth commandment, "thou shalt not kill," in condemning mercy slaying, and added:

"The fact is, that the doctor by committing a mercy slaying; changes his mission to an inhuman one of giving death."

But the prosecutor, Attorney General William L. Phinney, in approving the physician's liberty under bail, explained this "rather unusual" procedure was followed "because of Dr. Sander's high moral character and standing in the community."

Dr. Sander's release was made conditional only after his trial. Defense counsel objected to the stipulation and agreed to it only after Superior Court Judge Harold E. Wescott ruled it would not prejudice the doctor's case.

Engel Fails To Win Respite From Prison Sentence

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Sigmund Engel, silver-haired wooer of wealthy widows, failed today to win a respite from a prison term.

Criminal court Judge George M. Fisher ruled the 74 year old swindler must begin serving a two to 10 year sentence Monday.

Engel was convicted Nov. 1 of fleeing Chicago, weds. Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, of $48,700. Police say that during a 50 year career Engel has reaped a $1,000,000 profit from his romances.

But his famed exuberance was missing today when his lawyer urged that Engel not be sent to prison while his appeal is pending.

In a subdued voice Engel turned to the prosecutor, James A. Brown, and pleaded: "Please, Mr. Brown, don't object to this motion. I'm an old man. If you don't object I'll try to repay the favor."

But the voice that police said charmed at least 50 women had no effect on the prosecutor, and the judge denied Engel's motion.

London Editor Predicts 2nd Russ Atomic Blast Saturday

London, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Editor Kenneth De Courcy says you can look for a second Russian atomic explosion next Saturday night, Jan. 10. Specifically, at midnight Greenwich Mean Time, or 2 a.m. Sunday Moscow time.

De Courcy is the man who predicted last January that Russia would attempt an atomic explosion in 1949.

He said in a statement to newsmen today the second explosion will be set off at the weekend in blasting for an Asiatic irrigation project unless there's a technical hitch, in which case "the Russian general staff plans are to have the postponed experiment on Jan. 10."

De Courcy is editor of the monthly Intelligence Digest, a private information service. A man of 40 with an extensive background in international intelligence, he claims information from highly placed informants in several eastern European countries.

The Atomic Scientists Association of Britain also issued a declaration today on Russia's atomic position. It said the Russians will have enough bombs in a year or two to fight an atomic war.

There will be no immediate check on a new explosion unless the Russians choose to announce it, which is unlikely. Eventually, however, such a secret will out. Intelligence reports, plus scientific monitoring of the earth's atmosphere for radioactivity, tell the news. American-occupied Japan is a likely point for part of the monitoring.

De Courcy's digest Sept. 1 contained the news that Russia had made an atomic bomb. This was 23 days before President Truman announced there had been an atomic explosion in Russia.

President Truman said in Washington today he does not know when the Russians will produce another atomic explosion.

Commenting on De Courcy's new prediction, he said he had no advance notice of the first blast and has no advance information whether another is to take place.

De Courcy said the next blast will be in the Soviet Asiatic republic of Kazakhstan, in a lake region near the republic's border with Sinkiang.

The explosion "will be of an unusual kind because it will be connected with a blasting operation in connection with an irrigation project," he said.

"This is a rather disquieting statement, because it suggests that the Russians are, in some respects, ahead of the United States of America," he said.

Adm. Bogan Accuses Navy Secretary Of 'Breach Of Faith'

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Vice Adm. Gerald F. Bogan, commander of the first task fleet, today accused Navy Secretary Matthews of "Breach of Faith."

Bogan said that Matthews' reaction to a "very sincere and honest" letter criticizing administration of the fleet was a factor in his decision to seek retirement.

Another factor, he said, was his imminent demotion to a rear admiral's billet as commander of fleet air, Jacksonville, Fla.

Bogan told a press conference that his letter, written at Matthews' invitation, gave his opinion of fleet policies as adversely affecting the Navy's morale. That letter was sent through channels and endorsed by Adm. Arthur Radford, Pacific fleet commander, and Adm. Louis Denfeld when the latter was chief of naval operations. It was made public by Capt. John Crommelin, foe of unification, and led to a congressional probe.

Matthews promised flag officers that such letters would receive the most serious consideration, Bogan said.

"The only consideration which my letter received was to cause Matthews to refer to me in very derogatory terms in a public statement to the armed services committee of congress," the Admiral said.

Psychiatrist Says Chambers Suffers From Mental Ills

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A psychiatrist testified today that Alger Hiss' chief accuser, Whittaker Chambers, suffers from a mental disorder which makes his victims chronic liars and false accusers.

Dr. Carl A. J. Binger, called by the defense in Hiss' second perjury trial, said the disorder is a recognized mental disease known as "psychopathic personality."

In allowing the mental specialist to testify, over strong government objections, Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard said it was probably the first such testimony to be admitted in a federal trial.

Replying to a 70-minute question by Defense Counsel Claude B. Cross, Dr. Binger, who day after day watched Chambers in court, told the jury of eight women and four men:

"Mr. Chambers is suffering from a condition known as a psychopathic personality—a disorder of character, the outstanding features of which are amoral and asocial behavior."

Such persons, the psychiatrist said, suffer from "chronic persistent and repetitive lying, stealing, misrepresentation, acts of deception and drug addiction, alcoholism, abnormal sexuality, vagabondage, panhandling, the inability to form stable attachments and a tendency to make false accusations, in addition to what is commonly known as lying."

"This particular kind of lying is known as pathological lying."

Truman Bars Military Aid To Nationalists

Illinois Floods Kill 1, Leave Many Homeless

By The Associated Press
One person was drowned and scores were homeless in floods that hit widely separated areas of Illinois Thursday.

At least six separate sections were caught in floods involving at least five rivers and several creeks. Much farm land was inundated. The Fifth Army at Chicago dispatched aid to some areas and kept in close touch with conditions.

Highways were blocked in some places. Illinois Terminal railroad train service was curtailed in the central part of the state because of icy trolley wires and high water.

Miss Hannah Derler, 71, was drowned near Sainte Marie, in Jasper county, when water from the Embarrass river overflowed a pasture where she and two relatives were rounding up cattle.

She, her brother, Alois, and his son, Leroy, 19, had ridden their horses into the pasture late last night. One horse was drowned and the other two swam to safety. Miss Derler climbed onto a tractor, but apparently was swept away. The other Derlers were rescued by neighbors who heard their cries for aid. Both were being treated for exposure.

Some of the smaller rivers were beginning to recede, but larger streams, particularly the Wabash, continued to rise. Water was over state highway 150 in 12 spots near Danville. At Mt. Carmel, Mayor F. D. Talley planned to use empty box cars for flood refugees as the river climbed well above flood stage.

Six families were evacuated at Carmi, in southeastern Illinois, where the Little Wabash was rising and had inundated much farmland in that section. Farmers were moving livestock to higher ground.

The Embarrass river was receding after blocking highways and causing damage around Tuscola and Villa Grove. Many families were rescued by boats. At Tuscola many took refuge in public buildings. The Illinois national guard sent field equipment and the Chanute air base furnished 100 cots.

The Tuscola fire department worked all night Wednesday and all day Thursday draining flooded basements with suction pumps. Tuscola schools reopened Thursday, but attendance was light.

Twelve blocks of residences were under water at Decatur due to seepage from heavy rains. The city health department asked residents of the area to boil drinking water.

Truman Will Send Economic Message To Congress Today

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—President Truman sends his annual economic report to congress tomorrow, and the lawmakers have two reasons to believe the message will be mild and even mellow in tone.

Those reasons are:

1. The moderate phrasing of his state of the union message, delivered in person Wednesday to a joint session of the House and Senate.

2. The restrained character of the year-end report of his own council of economic advisers, issued a week ago today.

Mr. Truman spoke confidently of the future yesterday when he touched on the nation's economic achievements and prospects. Notable advances have been made toward a better life for all, he said, and he envisioned the possibility of a trillion dollar national income in 2,000 A.D.

He spoke of removing inequities in the tax laws, and holding down government spending to a level he deems wise. Both these points may be developed further in the economic message, and should be revealed in some detail in the 1951 budget he will send up to the Capitol next Monday.

The current flourishing business situation appears to have eliminated any possibility that Mr. Truman would ask for standby anti-inflationary powers as he did in last year's economic message.

Chevrolet Shows 1950 Model Autos To U.S. Saturday

Detroit, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Chevrolet will introduce its 1950 model cars Saturday with an automatic transmission as optional extra-cost equipment.

The transmission, first to appear in the low-price car field, is of the torque converter type and will have a price tag of $150. No general price cuts are planned on the new models, but there will be a reduction of $250 on the station wagon.

An entirely new model in the Chevrolet line will be a hard-top convertible, called the Bel Air. It will be priced at $100 below Chevrolet's 1949 conventional type convertible.

Numerous refinements have been made in chassis and body design of the 1950 Chevrolets. Major advances, however, are in the power unit. Chevrolet calls the new automatic transmission the "powerglide." With it goes a new engine of 105 horsepower.

There is a new carburetor which Chevrolet has named "power-jet." The engine manifold has been repositioned and hydraulic lifters have been installed. Rear axle ratio has been reduced.

Wishes To Steer Clear Of China War

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—China's triumphant communists scored two great successes on the international stage today amid bitter recriminations in the United States Congress.

1. President Truman, in a major policy declaration, flatly refused to intervene to save Formosa, big island off the China coast, from the Reds.

2. Great Britain prepared to announce tomorrow that it is recognizing the communist government of China. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's ambassador to London was called to the British foreign office and politely told Britain no longer recognizes Chiang's government.

Double Blow To Chiang's
It was a double blow to Chiang's hopes of building up Formosa as a possible springboard from which to jump back some day to the mainland where the communists had beaten him.

A hot debate raged for hours in the Senate. Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) cried that the administration had betrayed the non-communist nationalists. If Formosa falls, he said, the United States' first line of defense may become its own Pacific coast.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the foreign relations committee, replied that Formosa is not important enough to risk war trying to save it.

Just because this nation opposes communism, it cannot invade all places where Reds are in control, he said.

President Truman served notice that the U. S. government intends to steer clear of the upheaval which has put much of China into communist hands.

"The United States government will not pursue a course which will lead to involvement in the civil conflict in China," said a statement he issued at his news conference.

Tonight it was learned that Americans on Formosa, of whom there are between 100 and 200, are being quietly told to leave. Officials here believe that the nationalist government there is threatened with an internal upheaval as well as a communist amphibious attack.

Dispatches from London said the British would announce recognition of the Reds about noon (7 a.m. E.S.T.) tomorrow.

The British have substantial trade and other interests in China, but British officials sought to discount this factor. They explained that "nothing would be gained by boycotting indefinitely a government ruling over a vast territory and population."

Secretary of State Acheson made plain the United States would be in no hurry to follow the British example. Any question of recognizing the Chinese communists is premature at this time, he said at a news conference. Nothing will be done, he said, without consulting congress.

Americans Living In Formosa Told To Leave By U.S.

Washington, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Americans in Formosa are being told quietly but officially to quit the Communist-threatened island unless they have urgent reasons to remain, it was learned tonight.

Diplomatic authorities said the advice was given on an individual basis, without a general warning to evacuate such as was issued in advance of the Communist conquests of Shanghai and other mainland areas. A general public warning was avoided because it might needlessly weaken the Nationalist's hold on the island, their last stronghold.

Officials here believe there is danger of an internal upheaval against the Nationalists' regime, as well as a Communist amphibious attack.

Americans in Formosa would have a better chance to get out hurriedly than those on the mainland. There are several ports which could be reached by ships of the recently reinforced seventh task fleet in the western Pacific.

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Miss Frances Sebesta (about 55), teachers of girls physical education in a high school here, today missed the first day of school in her 49 years as a pupil and teacher.

She left today for Chicago to meet a train bringing the body of her father to that city from Roseburg, Ore., where he died yesterday.

Miss Sebesta has taught here 31 years.

State Farm Prices Decline For Third Straight Month

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—(AP)—For the third straight month, Illinois farm commodity prices declined during December, the state-federal agriculture departments reported today.

And for the second month in a row, the parity rate for Illinois dropped below 100. The parity figure was 95 in December and 98 in November—an unfavorable relationship for the farmer between prices received and what he pays out.

The all commodity price index for mid-December was 229 per cent of the 1910-14 base. This was a two per cent drop from mid-November. Prices for crops and fruits increased but the overall index was pulled down by a seven per cent dip in livestock and livestock products.

Corn, wheat, oats and soybeans averaged higher than on Nov. 15. Hogs, cattle and lambs were lower. Corn went up 19 cents a bushel to $1.18 on Dec. 15 and wheat increased from $1.87 to $1.97. Only crushed from 86 cents to 70 cents a bushel and soybeans from $1.97 to $2.14.

Hog prices of $14.80 a hundredweight were at the lowest since June, 1946 and six per cent below Nov. 15.

Prehistoric settlers of Western Texas and New Mexico were mostly hunters.

CENSUS OBJECTIONS

There is some justification for public objection to the income questions in the census taking which is to begin April 1. The government plans to ask such questions of each fifth person over the age of 14. If your income is under $10,000 a year, you will be asked the exact amount; for the others, the fact that they are over the $10,000 line will be sufficient.

The main objection is not to divulging this information to the government but to giving it to local persons serving as census takers. The government, in fact, already has the income facts, in the internal revenue bureau, and could work out its statistics from these with a little extra effort. Many citizens see no reason why, after supplying this information in detail, they have to be interrogated again by someone in their own community with whom they may be acquainted.

According to latest reports, however, you will be told you may mail the income facts to Washington if you don't care to give it to the census taker. That is an improvement.

Aside from the income issue, and the question of whether you have a television set, the information sought by the government is the same as that of 10 years ago. You will be asked whether you live in a house, apartment, trailer, tent or boat? Number of rooms? What kind of water supply, heating equipment, toilet facilities, bathtub? Farmers will have to tell whether they are owners, renters or sharecroppers. How much do they spend on machinery, gasoline, feed? How far from a trading center?

All these facts are much desired by business as well as by the government statisticians.

HOW ARE YOUR CORNS?

When the Eastern Seaboard enjoyed its mildest winter in decades last year, the weather specialists said it was because the West was experiencing so extremely severe a winter.

The way they put it was that bitter cold blizzards can't be in two places at once. If they linger indefinitely in one spot, as they did in the West, then the East will be relatively free of them.

The experts' theory is about to get a fresh test. The East is so far having another mild winter. In a recent ten-day span, temperatures were in the 50's and 60's for eight days.

But up to now the West has not been repeating its 1948-49 performance. There've been some blizzards and cold spells, but they haven't buried the range and mountain country the way they did last season. And the bad weather hasn't been continuous.

Question: What's happening to winter? Is the climate changing? We wouldn't care to make so bold. For a plunging thermometer can make a chump out of anyone, including a weather expert, in less than 24 hours.

Local Condition Around Teeth May Mean Halitosis

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Judging by letters I've received, a lot of people are worried by bad breath—a condition which has become popularized under the name of halitosis. Perhaps the publicity given to this subject has made people more concerned than they would otherwise be. Whatever the cause, however, it seems to be a serious source of worry and embarrassment to many.

Some causes for bad breath arise in the mouth itself. Pyorrhea, which is an infection of the gums, is a common source of difficulty. This is a chronic condition and can be treated by the dentist. In many cases pyorrhea can be prevented, at least in part, by good mouth hygiene.

Other conditions in and around the teeth and gums are responsible for some cases of halitosis. Again many of these can be cured or prevented by proper care. Infected tonsils appear to be a cause in some people. Heavy smoking is undoubtedly responsible in others.

Alcohol May Do It
Certain substances swallowed appear fairly promptly in the saliva and this may impart an unpleasant odor to the breath; alcohol is one of these, and onions and garlic are other common substances which produce an unpleasant breath.

If halitosis is a real thing and not imaginary, what can be done about it? Attention to oral hygiene helps in many cases. The use of mouth washes and deodorants are not likely to get at the root of the trouble.

In general, all that a person can do about halitosis is to make sure that there is no local condition of the mouth or throat responsible. If nothing can be found it is wise not to worry too much about it.

Note Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Question: Is there any harm in eating a continuous breakfast of fruit and coffee?

Answer: Fruit and coffee for breakfast, providing balanced meals are taken at other times, should not cause any harm. Of course, fruit and coffee do not provide all the calories or all the other elements necessary for a complete diet.

Boyle's Column

The Setting Of The Sun

BY HAL BOYLE
New York.—(P)—It is a sad and bitter thing to see a great newspaper die.

And that's the way it was this week when the famous New York Sun ceased publication as a separate entity after more than 116 years.

Bought by publisher Roy Howard, its good will and name will live on as the merged New York World-Telegram and the Sun.

But the New York that Charles A. Dana made into a national institution—was dead. That is the way the men and women who put it out felt. After the paper had been put to bed for the last time, they held a wake for it in a nearby bar. It was the quietest wake in newspaper history.

Only about a score of the editorial staff of 190 attended the informal obsequies. The rest, stunned, had simply gone home.

An odd thing about the wake was that few of the men and women talked about how the shutdown would affect themselves, how hard it would be for most of them to find new jobs in an overcrowded field.

They kept their personal problems to themselves. What they wanted to talk about was their paper, the New York Sun, which some of them had worked on for 35 to 45 years. For a newspaper staff, like an army, has pride of service. And the Sun had been America's first "news-paperman's newspaper."

"How could anything 116 years old die?" asked one reporter, unbelievably.

Pulitzer-prize winning reporter Malcolm Johnson, who wrote the story of the Sun's sale, told them all he knew. He said the assignment was given to him by 70-year-old executive editor Keats Speed, one of New York's best-loved editors. And he said Speed wept when he gave it to him.

Johnson worked all day in secret on the story—the Sun wouldn't be scooped on its last day. And when he handed in the story, the city editor read the first page, and broke into tears. He asked Johnson if he would like a byline.

"I told him that was a story no Sun reporter would want a byline on," Johnson said. And it bore no byline.

The men talked at the bar about some of the great Sun reporters of the past—Frank Ward O'Malley and Richard Harding Davis.

A few were bitter. They questioned the management explanation that the Sun's sale had been made necessary by rising production costs and falling circulation and advertising revenue. These factors have helped kill many metropolitan dailies in the last half century.

The wake didn't last long. Most of the newsmen and women shook hands and left the bar early.

They threw a farewell glance across the street, where the darkened Sun building stood, lit by bright moonlight and many, many memories.

New Look Fading, Slim Silhouette Now Reappearing

The new look seems to be through and the slim silhouette appears to be on the way back, according to fall fashion trends noticed in the second annual fashion fair at New York.

Now more than ever women are trying frantically to take off the extra bulges.

In recent months many weight-reducing preparations have appeared on the market, some of them based on "the diet and vitamin plan," which means cut down on the intake of food and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress.

A survey among drug stores in Illinois shows that one preparation, Rennel, which is the outstanding seller in the reducing field, is not based on this vitamin plan.

Any Illinois druggist can supply you with 4 ounces of Rennel. Just add this to 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take according to directions. No starvation diet.

The makers of Rennel guarantee to refund your money if the very first bottle does not show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Four ounces of Rennel costs little and hundreds of Illinois women have highly endorsed it.

Your Child Today

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

A child's behavior can be improved by substituting another interest for the one parents dislike, says the National Kindergarten Association. For example, points out the association, one three-year-old crept out of bed on three successive mornings, took all the things from his father's brief case and scattered them over the room. Each time he put it where he could find it in the morning—a box of pictures, a toy, with the same "naughty" act. His mother insisted that the child had to learn he wasn't to touch things that did not belong to him.

But we are here dealing with a 3-year-old, says the association. Why does his father leave his brief case where junior can get at it? Evidently his interest in the brief case and the temptation to look inside and then out of bed on three successive mornings, took all the things from his father's brief case and scattered them over the room. Each time he put it where he could find it in the morning—a box of pictures, a toy, with the same "naughty" act. His mother insisted that the child had

Study Made Of Cow's Ferments

Sacramento—(P)—Does it matter to you what goes on in those extra stomachs of cows and sheep? It should, says C. F. Huffman, Michigan State College dairying expert. He told a recent animal industry conference here that not enough is known about just what takes place in the rumen, or first stomach of cows and sheep.

"The efficient fermentation vats of cattle and sheep make possible the utilization of one-half to one billion acres of ranch land in the United States which would otherwise yield little if any human food," he declared. What is not widely realized, says Huffman, is that ruminants do not get most of their nourishment directly from feed, but from the digestion and absorption of countless number of food-laden bacteria that work on the coarse food in the rumen.

The activity of the mischievous child needs constant supervision—his energies need outlets, and he should have frequent opportunities for change of play. After a while he will become stabilized. It takes time, and it takes patient, unobtrusive guidance on the part of parents.

The great German educational reformer, Friedrich W. A. Froebel, once said, "Let us live with our children." That "with" is an important word. As used here by Froebel it means "in sympathetic understanding of."

Not so long ago, a sweet little four-year-old was playing mud-pies in the back yard, happy as a lark. She was called away from her play to go someplace in a car. As she stood on the seat of the car, her mother turned to her and said, "You have had a happy time today, haven't you?"

The child looked at her with squinty eyes, as if she had never seen her mother before, and replied, "I'm not talking now!"

Her mother might have laughed at her. She might have reprimanded her. Instead, she exclaimed, "Oh, look at that beautiful bluejay!" This diverted the child, and she was herself again and was happy all the rest of the drive.

BLINKS TABULATED
New York —(P)— Each time you blink, your vision is cut off for three-tenths of a second. All your daily blinks add up to a lot of no-seeing during a day. Since a short period of readjustment is needed after each blink, psychologists figure that you go about more or less unseeing for 11 to 20 per cent of your waking day, the Better Vision Institute reports.

"Blinking keeps the eyes moist and clean, and provides rest and refreshment for the nerves and brains. A man whose eyes were kept open forcibly would go to pieces, the psychologists say."

There's quite a difference, between a wink and a blink, besides intent. In a wink, the upper and lower lids share the job about equally, meeting over the pupil. But in a blink, most of the work is done by the upper lid, with the two lids meeting about at the base of the iris.

Smoke and dust can be removed from the air by super-powdered sound waves that are inaudible but can be felt with the hand.

MARK 54TH WEDDING DATE

Major Servais Addresses Nesco Symposium Club

Major Henri Servais addressed members of the Nesco Symposium club at their meeting Wednesday evening in the Jay-Cee restaurant. The speaker, who is probation officer for Morgan county, chose "Juvenile Delinquency" as his topic.

He explained the merit system which is used in connection with the youngsters in Morgan county who have been placed on probation. Several case histories were related by the speaker.

Major Servais emphasized unfavorable home conditions as one of the important factors in the cause of juvenile delinquency, stressing the need for correcting such conditions.

The major stated that during the past six months there have been no court cases involving juvenile delinquents in Morgan county.

In his concluding remarks the major spoke of the excellent cooperation which he receives from citizens, parents and the community in general. This support, declared the speaker, shows that the community is alerted to the problems of juvenile delinquency.

Preceding the program, a brief business session was conducted by the president, Bob Hills.

Three officials of the Sangamo Electric Management club of Springfield were present at the meeting. They were LeRoy Payne, club president, George Carty, executive secretary, and John Galassee, treasurer.

Mr. Galassee spoke regarding the regional conference of the National Association of Foremen which is to be held in Springfield on April 22.

The Nesco group will send a delegation to this meeting.

Haphazard placements, he said, often resulted in children being put into homes of persons mentally and physically unfit to care for them. Altogether, the volume of irregular adoptions here is "tremendous," the prosecutor declared.

Fifty Year Food Review

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are one of the people who would like to see good old-fashioned cooking come back into its own, and are inclined to blame some of the 1949 American table concoctions on modern "scientific eating," stop a minute—and look back 50 years.

Once upon a time most Americans figured that the best thing to do with food was to eat it. But in the 1900's, influenced by European chemists, our own scientists began to do some analyzing, and eventually the science of nutrition was born. To be sure, the early experts made a few startling mistakes. At one point some specialists condemned the use of fresh fruits and vegetables; and a whole set of other laboratory professionals had to work hard to demonstrate their virtues.

No one would question the nutritional research that now-a-days advocates a "balanced diet"—its findings are undisputable. But every once in a while, even among the scientists, up pops the wheat-germ-and-dried-milk or the soy-beans-will-cure the ills of the world school. Potatoes Are Shipping.

An important-looking chart called Trends in Our Eating Habits from 1900 to 1950 has just been released in Washington. It shows that while Americans still like their meat we are no longer the meat-and-potatoes nation we once were. Rock-gibbed individualists who feel that combination (and plenty of it) helped build this country's brawn, really have something to worry about. Potatoes seem to have lost their place—figures show that, along with grain products, we've been eating less of them steadily and surely.

What do you suppose we've been doing with our steaks and chops and fennel haddie instead of the buxom potato? Your guess is good if it's some of the other members of the vegetable clan or a "tossed salad"—that abhorrence of a lot of ordinary men and the delight of gourmets.

We Like Citrus

One of the most spectacular changes in our eating habits in the last 50-year span is our use of citrus fruits: oranges, grapefruit, lemons. Could it be we're impressed with the vitamin C (ascorbic acid) they offer and that we know we need a good source of that vitamin daily because our bodies can't store it?

What accounts for these changes in eating habits? Changes in income, the fact that some of the nutrition education has "taken," and improvements in food production, marketing, and transportation.

Along with citrus fruits we've taken the tomato to our hearts and stomachs. Another excellent source of vitamin C, it's widely accepted. Tomato juice before dinner is so usual nowadays you'd think it had been with us always—but actually the tomato wasn't canned in this form until about 1930.

We've been helping keep our diets balanced by constantly increasing our use of milk in the years since 1909... not just for drinking, but in bread and other bakery products, in candy, and other foods.

Ready-To-Eat Foods

Recent ready-to-eat developments have been exciting — cakes, pies (custards and fillings), puddings, popovers, muffins, fried shrimp, soups, and practically anything else you can think of come canned, packaged, or frozen. It looks as if these ready-to-eat foods were here to stay.

Food fads have been with us constantly for the past 50 years—aided and abetted by our intense interest in dieting. Food-fad quacks just naturally took over where patent medicine promoters left off.

Another influence on meals has been our disinterest in dining rooms. Dining alcoves, breakfast nooks, foyer tables, and lap-eating hold sway. As a result the number of courses in a meal have been whittled down. Thank heaven we still splurge on holidays.

And how about recipes? I got a shock recently when I turned to my 1915 edition of Fanny Farmer. Next time you have the urge to blame the current ladies' magazines for some of our more dressed-up food numbers, just remember that Miss F. helped to start it with such offerings as her salad of tomatoes, asparagus, and beets all arranged to look like an Indian Headdress. The color picture is there, too.

If by any chance you get fed up with some of the 1950 meals you taste, give a thought to the fact that your diet's undoubtedly improving, and that you'll probably live longer to taste more!

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—Hogs lost much of yesterday's gains today when receipts turned up heavier than expected by about 3,000 head. Cattle were unevenly strong to 50 cents less, but lambs were 50 cents to $1.00 higher.

Butcher porkers generally were 25 to 50 cents lower at $14.00 to $16.25, but trading was active at the decline and clearance was good. A top of $16.50 was paid sparingly. Sows made $10.00 to $12.75 but a few went to $13.25.

A load of high-choice yearling steers merited $40.50 but from there quality dropped to $35.00 levels and less. Two loads grading good and choice took that figure and a few loads of just good steers and yearlings found ready outlet at $30.00 to $32.00. Medium and good kinds took $22.00 to $29.00 and similar heifers were $21.50 to $27.00. A load of good heifers managed $28.25. Beef cows topped at $18.00, sausage bulls at $21.50. The practical best level for vealers was $30.00 though a few got to $31.00.

Two loads of lambs topped at $24.50 followed by 10 loads at $24.25, which showed most of the advance at $20.50 to $22.50. Yearlings peaked at $19.50 and ewes at $12.00. Included in the day's salable run were 20,000 hogs, 6,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 4,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Jan. 5.—(P)—The stock market struggled mightily to advance today but was only partly successful. The price level at one time hit the highest point in more than three years.

In the heaviest trading since November 1948, a majority of issues came through with gains of fractions to around a point. There were many holdouts, though, with prices either unchanged or a shade lower.

The market got off to a flying start and turnover for the first hour alone totaled 880,000 shares. Prices advanced as much as a point or so. Business was so rapid for a while that the ticker tape fell behind in reporting actual transactions on the floor of the exchange. A reaction set in almost immediately and top prices were either pared or eliminated in many cases. A partial recovery developed later.

Railroad issues surged ahead in the bond market, with the lower priced issues attracting the bulk of the attention.

FIRM TREND IN CHICAGO WHEAT

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—A firm trend in wheat featured grain dealings on the board of trade today. Corn, oats and rye were unable to show much strength, hanging around previous closing levels.

Soybeans and lard firmed. Advances of 1 to 1 cent a pound in crude vegetable oils caused some buying. Tallow and grease prices also were raised.

Receipts are: wheat 5 cars, corn 21, oats 5, rye none, barley 3, soybeans 2.
Wheat closed 1-1 higher. March $2.18-2.18; corn was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher. March $1.32, oats were 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher. May 70-1/4, rye was 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher. Jakarta (Batavia), U.S.I., Jan. 5.—(P)—The government of the new United States of Indonesia entered its second phase today. The federal cabinet took authority over the rich islands from the national committee that had prepared for assumption of power from the Dutch.

Committee Chairman Mohammed Rum formerly made the transfer of power to U.S.I. Premier Mohamed Hatto at a brief ceremony.

Crimsons Battle Beardstown; Franklin At ISD Tonight

First Game Set For 7:30 On DP Boards; Jacks Have 8-2 Mark

DETOUR!

Jack Chapman

With a holiday tournament championship under their belts the Jacksonville high school Crimsons hope to continue their winning ways when they take the boards against Nick Carter's battling Beardstown Tigers here tonight.

The preliminary tussle which will throw Bob Kraushaar's Crimson B squad against the Beardstown reserves, will get underway at 7:30 p.m. The headline is scheduled for 8:30. With three straight wins in the local holiday tournament, the Chapman-coached bunch now boasts an 8-2 seasons mark. Losses were suffered in the hands of Lanphier of Springfield and Pittsfield before Christmas. The Jacks whipped Virginia, Virden, Winchester, Feitschans of Springfield and Routt in 1949 competition and beat Winchester. Kincaid and Routt in the holiday go to claim the title.

Light Practice
After three tough workouts the forepart of this week, Chapman tapered off last night with light drills and released his regulars after an hour-long session. He reports that the boys will be in top shape for tonight's fracas.

Though the starting lineup will list Jack Chapman and Bill Williams at forwards, Maylon Baldwin, center and Ron Kemp and Ike Wright, guards, Chapman indicated that senior forward Harvey Meyer will be used considerably this evening as well as Dick Gottschall, Meyer, Baldwin and Gottschall have proved invaluable as substitutes several times this season.

Maylon Baldwin, husky center and Ron Kemp, a rangy guard, are probably the most improved ball players on the Crimson squad, said Chapman last night. Both boys showed up well in guiding the Crimsons to their first holiday crown.

Wright, Chapman Improving
Ike Wright, a freshman, is developing into a standout performer and Jack Chapman is rounding into a high scoring forward. Only Bill Williams has been off of late and he is expected to return to his old form soon.

Nick Carter's Tigers have been an off and on team so far this season. For comparison, fans have the Pittsfield-Beardstown fray early in the year. The Saukees clipped the river gang by five points less than they whipped the Crimsons. The two fives will be battling for the striped jug this evening. Beardstown has held the two-school trophy for almost two years of athletic competition and the locals have their eyes set and their muscles cocked to bring the battered emblem back to Morgan county.

Arenzville Kid Cagers Win 25-13 At So. Jacksonville

The Arenzville grade school quintet slayed Merle Wade's South Jacksonville kid cagers 25-13 on the local boards last night.

Judie Negus, South Jacksonville center, led local scoring with six points. Hobrock's ten were high for Arenzville.

Arenzville won the preliminary 25-13.

MONMOUTH WINS
Carthage, Ill., Jan. 5.—(P)—A speedy Monmouth College basketball team outshot the Carthage Redmen 72-61, tonight to hand the host team its 7th loss in eight starts.

The Scots grabbed a nine point lead early in the game, increased it to 36-27 at the half, and maintained an edge the remainder of the way.

Thus, three major league clubs accounted for 43 of the 91 ballots cast. Two college football teams, Minnesota and Tulane, were next, tied with seven votes each, while Northwestern's Rose Bowl champions followed with six ballots.

Minnesota was ranked as an outstanding Big Ten champion contender until upset in midseason by Michigan and Purdue on successive weekends. This cost the Gophers a trip to the Rose Bowl, as Ohio State and Michigan tied for the championship. Big things also were expected of Tulane, but the Green Wave collapsed against Notre Dame in what had been touted as a meeting of Titans. Then, with a possible chance at the Sugar Bowl invitation, Tulane was roundly trounced in the season's finale by Louisiana State.

Likewise, Northwestern had been expected to make another strong bid

Double Feature Cage Performance Billed At ISD Saturday Night

The local basketball picture blossoms into full growth in Jacksonville Saturday night when local fans are offered a twin-bill, high school, college performance at the ISD gymnasium.

The Tigers of ISD start the ball rolling by taking on the White Hall Maroons to fulfill the high school billings. In the feature performance, Al Miller pits his Blueboy five against Lake Forest in a CCI conference encounter.

It will mark the first Little Nine appearance for both college foes this season. The Hilltoppers sport a 7-2 record against non-conference opposition up to now. Both games were lost on the road, to Murray State of Kentucky and Washington U. at St. Louis. In their string of wins the Millermen claimed the title in their own holiday tourney by besting Shurtleff and Bemidji Teachers of Minnesota in that order. Last victory was at Kirksville, Mo., Monday night.

The local collegians will be launching their conference schedule against a Lake Forest outfit that currently holds a 4-2 seasons record. Most impressive are victories over Lawrence college and Illinois Tech. The Foresters play Millikin at Decatur this evening.

The high school opener is set for 7:15 p.m. announced coaches Spike Wilson and Al Miller. The collegians will do battle at 9:30 p.m. The later date will give Jacksonville businessmen an opportunity to catch the game after work and yet will not cause an uncomfortable lapse between the two games, said Miller.

Cleveland Indians Biggest Sports Flop Of Year, Say Editors

New York, Jan. 5.—(P)—A hero today, and a bum tomorrow. That's what they say, and the Cleveland Indians have been voted the biggest sports disappointment of 1949 in the annual year-end Associated Press poll of the nation's sports editors.

Last year, Cleveland was voted the outstanding team of 1948 after battling to the American League pennant and beating the Boston Braves in the world series.

The 1949 team of the year vote already has gone to the Notre Dame football team, undefeated in 38 games over a four-year span. Notre Dame netted 213 points, compared with 149 points for the New York Yankees, 1949 world champions. Cleveland failed to get a single vote.

In 1949, although top favorites with the Boston Red Sox to win the American League flag, Cleveland wound up in third. The Red Sox were second.

But the voting was close, and the Indians acquired the disappointment "honor" by the margin of a single ballot. The Indians got 15 votes while the Red Sox and the Boston Braves tied for second with 14 each.

Braves Disappoint
The Braves got into the disappointment department by failing to repeat as the National League flag winner, and because of the intra-club troubles and reported insurrection against Manager Billy Southworth.

Thus, three major league clubs accounted for 43 of the 91 ballots cast. Two college football teams, Minnesota and Tulane, were next, tied with seven votes each, while Northwestern's Rose Bowl champions followed with six ballots.

Minnesota was ranked as an outstanding Big Ten champion contender until upset in midseason by Michigan and Purdue on successive weekends. This cost the Gophers a trip to the Rose Bowl, as Ohio State and Michigan tied for the championship. Big things also were expected of Tulane, but the Green Wave collapsed against Notre Dame in what had been touted as a meeting of Titans. Then, with a possible chance at the Sugar Bowl invitation, Tulane was roundly trounced in the season's finale by Louisiana State.

Likewise, Northwestern had been expected to make another strong bid

Michaels Rejects 2 Chisox Offers

Detroit, Jan. 5.—(P)—Second baseman Cas Michaels of the Chicago White Sox disclosed today that he has rejected two 1950 contracts offered him by the American League club.

Michaels, a Detroit resident, said, "I read a lot about the high price the Sox put on me when they talked trades this winter."

"But if I told you what kind of a salary raise I was offered you'd laugh," he added. Michaels continued, "I already have returned two contracts."

He made no mention of the money involved.

About $1,000,000,000, it is estimated, had been invested by the public in television receivers up to the end of 1949.

By Bob Merris

Virginia tournament battles have been tighter than the paper on the wall. Two first-round games were settled by a one-point difference and last night Chambersburg moved to the finals by besting a rejuvenated host club 43-41 in a double overtime.

Such close fights should tend to fill the Virginia gymnasium to overflowing this evening with the consolation and championship games on tap. We have it from good counsel that Chambersburg looks like a good bet to take the crown in this meet while other sources like Virginia over Dosh in the consolation struggle.

With stories of floods and icy roads coming from northeastern Illinois, Al Miller is wondering if Lake Forest will be able to make the CCI date with his quintet Saturday night. He'll know tomorrow for then the northern five is slated to meet Millikin at Decatur and if they can wend their way that far south, Jacksonville should be a breeze.

Bob Murrin, lanky Illinois college pivot man, is ineligible. The ruling was made official last night and released by the Hilltop mentor. Murrin was coming into his own at the pivot point and his loss will definitely be a blow to Blueboy conference aspirations. Ironically enough, he reportedly played the best game of his college career at Kirksville Monday. Was it his last?

Durocher Says
Team Transformed To Fast Outfit

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 5.—(P)—Leo Durocher conveys the idea his New York Giants have effected a transformation from a bunch of heavy tanks to a jet propelled outfit.

"You people are going to see some running when the team arrives here March 1 for spring training," he told Phoenix newspapermen. "We won't need any bulldozers to push our men around the bases."

With a flourish or two, as though he were sweeping slow power hitters right off the balcony of the local hotel where he's staying, Leo added: "Yes, we're a different ball club. We can hit and run; we can get that extra base, we can make those double plays and we can grab those bleeders in the outfield."

Apparently the big change in the Giants, famed as a power hitting outfit lacking speed, was the acquisition of shortstop Alvin Dark from the Boston Braves in a winter trade.

"That Dark was the man we wanted in our big deal with the Braves. Stanky didn't come into it until the Braves asked for Sid Gordon. Gordon still figured in the plans of the New York club, and we had to get something for our money then," Durocher said.

In the biggest deal of the winter, Eddie Stanky, second baseman, and Dark came to the Giants in return for outfielder Willard Marshall, shortstop Buddy Kerr, third baseman Gordon and Sam Webb, a pitcher used mostly in relief.

Finals Tonight

Virginia vs. Mercedosa (7 p.m.)

Chambersburg vs. Astoria (8:30 p.m.)

Virginia — Virginia tournament fans saw basketball plus last night when the host five and Chambersburg fought through two overtimes before a 'Burger basket' flipped in two points to give his club a 43-41 decision in the last semi-final tussle.

The score was locked at 39-39 at the end of regular playing time. Each quint scored a field goal in the regular overtime session to throw the tally into a 41-41 stalemate. The battle was waged well into the sudden death period before a Chambersburg athlete hit for two points and won the ball game.

Pool scored 18 points to lead the winners while Harrison got 16 for Virginia.

Virginia tangles with Mercedosa for consolation tonight. Chambersburg meets Astoria in the 8:30 championship bout.

Future Status Of Grimm Is Topic Of Cub Discussion

Chicago, Jan. 5.—(P)—The future status of Charlie Grimm in the Chicago Cub organization presumably will be discussed at a Chicago meeting tomorrow between the Bruin vice president and club owner P. K. Wrigley.

Amid reports that Grimm has been offered managership of the Dallas club of the Texas league, Wrigley disclosed today that the former Cub manager would come here from his home near St. Louis for a parley tomorrow.

Grimm, attending his 80-year-old mother, who is gravely ill in St. Louis, tried to telephone Wrigley today. Although Wrigley was absent from his office at the time, Grimm made the date to meet him.

"I sincerely hope Grimm decides to remain in our organization," commented Wrigley. "But I can't blame Dick Burnett (owner of the Dallas club) for wanting him as manager. Who wouldn't want him?"

Wrigley said he would not stand in Grimm's way, if the Dallas offer was to the joy of baseball man's advantage. Grimm, supplanted as manager by Frankie Frisch during the 1949 season and moved into the vice presidency, has three years remaining in a five-year contract calling for $25,000 annually.

Grimm's switch to Dallas was seen as extremely possible as observers close to the Cub scene because of an alleged smoldering feud with Jimmy Gallagher, also listed as a club vice president.

Not 'Yes Or No' Proposition For Erdelatz, Navy

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 5.—It became evident today it wasn't just a "Yes or No" proposition when Eddie Erdelatz was invited to the Naval Academy to talk about the football coaching vacancy.

Rather, it was an invitation to discuss the entire situation and then decide if each wants the other.

Erdelatz spent his second day at the academy without coming close to a decision either way—to stay as head coach or return to his assistant coaching job with the professional San Francisco 49ers.

Both academy athletic officials and Erdelatz explained their conversations hadn't yet touched on whether he will be the man to succeed George Bauer.

Today, Erdelatz did not even mention officially Capt. Howard Caldwell, director of athletics, or other Navy personnel who will decide the question. He wandered around the academy on his own hook, talking to friends he made during the three years (1945-47) he was an assistant Navy coach.

So far he has spent his time finding out what he would be stepping into—such as player procurement plans, assistant coaches, etc. As for what the Navy is willing to offer in the way of salary and contract, Erdelatz said "it's up to the Navy to start talking those things, and they haven't yet."

Tigers, Idle Since Dec. 10, Favored Over Flash Quintet

Idle since last Dec. 10 when they handed the Wisconsin Deaf quintet a decisive defeat to wind up post-holiday play with a 4-1 record, Spike Wilson's ISD Tigers inaugurate their new year's home card by playing hosts to Joe Treat's Franklin Flashes on the westend boards tonight.

Games are set for 7 and 8:30 p.m. Coach Wilson reported that his Tiger athletes came through the feasting, holiday season very well and have looked from fair to good in drills this week.

His starting lineup will be the same that it has been all season: Leo Cecil and Alta Hood, forwards; Irvin Carlstedt, center and Gilbert Paul and Eddy Raffel, guards.

Of course Cecil is still hitting the basket at his usual deadly pace, but most impressive in recent practices has been Alta Hood, says Wilson. Gilbert Paul, red-headed, left-handed guard is also rounding into top flight form. He shot 100 per cent from the field against Wisconsin Deaf last month, hitting seven out of seven fielders and one free throw for a 15 point total.

Biggest disadvantage for the Tigers tonight, as usual, will be the height factor. Carlstedt, the center, is the tallest man on the starting five and measures but 5-9. Extra height can be inserted into the lineup by substituting Doyle West who stands at towering 5-10.

Joe Rawlings who stretches 6-2 for the Franklin outfit, is expected to cause a great deal of trouble for the shorter ISD outfit, although the Flashes have not been too impressive this season. Treat's boys only win last year came at the expense of Pleasant Plains, certainly not a "sweet sixteen" contender.

Rich Winter Golf Campaign Opens In Riviera Meet

Los Angeles, Jan. 5.—(P)—Golf's rich winter tournament campaign opens on a golden note tomorrow. A trimmed down field of 128 players will set forth then over the long Riviera Country Club course on a four-day, 72-hole quest for shares in a $150,000 pot.

More than 300 golfers entered this 24th annual fixture but only some 48 exempt stars and survivors of qualifying rounds last Thursday will get up to the first tee tomorrow.

There is no question about the favorite—the sentimental favorite, that is. He's Ben Hogan.

The ex-king of the pros signalled the start of a come-back with two sub par practice rounds at Riviera within the past few days.

Riviera's 7,000-yard long course is Ben's favorite. He captured the U.S. open here in 1948, and two of his three triumphs in the Los Angeles open were registered here in 1948 and 1947.

But whether the mechanical man from Texas has recovered for the tournament grind after a near-fatal auto accident last February remains to be seen.

DEAF ALL-AMERICAN

Irvin Carlstedt, scrappy ISD tackle, has been named on the All-American deaf football team, announced Tiger coach Art Yates last night.

Carlstedt, a senior at the westend school, has been a star grid performer for Coach Yates and company for the past four years. He also shines in track and is a standout center—though only 5-9—on Spike Wilson's current basketball team.

The Deaf All-American eleven is picked annually by the Cavalier, a national independent newspaper for the deaf. Leonard Warshawsky sports editor of the paper, notified Yates of Carlstedt's selection.

Red Strader Signs To Coach New York Bulldog Gridders

New York, Jan. 5.—(P)—Norman (Red) Strader was signed today as coach of the New York Bulldogs of the new National-American football league, succeeding Charles Ewart, who resigned at the close of the past season.

Strader, a T-formation operative, coached the New York Yankees of the disbanded All-America conference from mid-48 through '49. His team won 8 out of its 12 games the past campaign.

Ted Collins, owner of the Bulldogs, did not announce the length of Strader's contract or the salary to be paid him. He said Strader would choose his own assistants.

Strader coaches a team of All-America conference all-stars who defeated the Cleveland Browns, conference champions, 12-7, in the Shamrock Bowl game at Houston on Dec. 17.

Death Ends Rebel Wedding

Ransom—(T)—A notorious Communist leader, Bo Seik, was playing a grim game of hide-and-seek with Government troops. Bo Seik wanted to celebrate his marriage. He hid up his jungle hide-out, prepared a feast.

Then he summoned his friends and the forest glade echoed music and laughter as the Rebel leader, his bride and their guests sang and danced. At the height of the festivities, Government troops burst in upon the scene.

The rebels reached for his gun. He was beaten to the draw. For the bridegroom there was death. For the bride, mourning.

MOLYBDENUM POISONING IN CATTLE

Sacramento—(P)—Molybdenum, a mineral valuable in industry, harms cows and sheep when enough is in the soil over which they graze. When enough gets into forage plants to be effective, red cows turn yellow, and black sheep and cattle turn gray, reports Dr. Harold Goss of the University of California.

Molybdenum is found in toxic amounts in part of California's San Joaquin valley, in Nevada, Canada, and England, he reports. It causes scours and emaciation in cattle and sheep, and seems to act like a copper deficiency, Goss says.

Dr. H. S. Cameron, also of the university, reports that tests have shown that a very small amount of copper sulphate in the drinking water will counteract the molybdenum.

I Love My Doctor

By Evelyn Barkins

THE STORY: John and I eloped several months ago. He opened his doctor's office in our four-room apartment. We waited and finally got our first patient. And during this time we found many adjustments to make. Financial and otherwise, in our individual lives.

XXII

AS time went on, other and more intricate "bust the bank" problems reared their nasty heads too. Apparently, as I quickly learned, while a mutual love of Bach and a kindred loathing of Gertrude Stein may make the genesis of a very satisfactory courtship, they do not necessarily insure a fine marriage. In wedlock, it is the big things that count most, like: "Why aren't the shirts back yet from the laundry?" "What happened to the $3.00 for the milkman that was left on the refrigerator?" and, "Fish again? Oh Heavens!"

Money (that ugly word) is the root of much unhappy conjugal discord. The original difficulty probably arose because many men labor under the misapprehension that their financial support is the pivotal point of the union, and regard their limited contributions to the family exchequer the way most people look upon their own philanthropy to the displaced persons of Europe. The fallacy is as obvious as the smell of a rotten egg. Any man who honestly adds up the housekeeping, housecleaning, hostessing, humoring, and companionship services he gets from a wife should realize that he's getting it all for less than whole-sale, and what's more, should be honored to pay. There is no doubt about it; marriage must have been invented by a man.

When I was first married, my mother suggested that John give me a regular allowance each week for my own expenses, or else keep one for himself, and let me pilot us by the bank. Either idea, she insisted, was solid marital principle, and this is unfortunately true. Many husbands and wives abandon community planning completely when the Yankee dollar is involved, and proceed strictly on the political doctrine of "To the victor belongs the spoils," like two hungry dogs scrapping for the same bone.

"I don't like it," said John, when I told him. "Whatever money we managed to get is not mine or yours, but ours. If marriage is a partnership, why shouldn't it extend to the partnership property? Why should either one of us be rationed, with the other in a position to dole out little extras like a special handbag for you, or a humidifier for me? My wallet," he said, with a final flourish, "is yours."

BUT the principle, thus installed, remained. Its subsequent success, moreover, has often made me doubt those popular tales of feminine extravagance that dot our current fiction. Only a lady on an allowance, without any notion of just what the jackpot behind her is, will recklessly succumb to each new dress that she sees, or fall victim to each new hat. The average American wife, if entrusted with the family funds, is as careful of her charge as a hen sitting on an egg. No grandiose tipping, no highest-priced entrees on the menu (peculiarly male offenses) are ever tolerated; and frankly, it is my conviction that if any woman ever got put in the White House, this country would not only balance its budget, but have a beautiful nest egg besides.

Another treacherous area to marriage involves personal temperament.

John and I had our own No-Man's Land. It was astounding to discover, for instance, in fairly quick time, that John, who was a vigilant Paul Revere and Jack Dalton rolled into one where his medical practice was concerned, was "What you can do tomorrow, never do today," otherwise. This male creed, which resulted in doorknobs that were rarely replaced, suits that never got to the tailors until they were beyond reclaim, and pictures that were tardily hung, was not very endearing to my own mind, whose motto was, "A stitch in time leaves you free tomorrow."

There was also the seemingly small, but to me, all-important matter of going to sleep. Simple, humdrum business, you may think, but not for us. By habit and inclination, I soon discovered, that whereas it invariably took me 30 or more minutes to drift off; for John a pair of pajamas and a comfortable bed acted like an overdose of morphine.

PSYCHIATRISTS, as I am well aware, have some fancy labels to attach to both states of mind, but naturally, these were of no help to either of us. Whether a particular mental disorder is traced to a great grandmother's dislike for green apples, or a red balloon in a frustrated childhood, the curative value is almost nonexistent; first, since there is no actual standardized treatment available, and second, since if the sufferer had the necessary will power to overcome the complex by mere analysis and suggestion, he probably wouldn't have developed it in the first place.

The difficulty in synchronizing our sleeping habits was further complicated by my desire to refresh the day's events, like a court-room summation, before retiring. John's sleeping grunts, on the few occasions when I tried this "man to man" talk, were definitely incapable of passing for conversation, and I found, to my disgust, that I was delivering an unappreciated Shakespearean soliloquy.

"Why don't you just go to sleep like I do?" he asked, finally, when I complained about having to stay up alone in the dark.

"I can't," I said. "I told you that I never could."

"It's easy," John answered smugly. "Just close your eyes, and that does it. Soft bed, closed eyes, and the rest comes like a conditioned reflex."

"You're a brute," I groaned, and turned away.

Corn Allotments Here To Cut 1950 Acreages Nearly 20% Under '49

Illinois corn allotments for 1950 will be curtailed greatly, a reduction of approximately 19.7% of the acreage planted in 1949, county PMA committeemen from Morgan, Mason, Menard, Pike and Cass counties were told yesterday when they attended a district meeting held in Virginia.

Lions Club Hears Talk On Welfare Of Aged Citizens

H. J. Vasconcellos, manager of the Springfield office of the social security administration was the principal speaker Wednesday night at the regular meeting of the Jacksonville Lions club.

His discussion was based on the problems of people after they are 65 years old, what has been done to ameliorate their condition, the tentative plans for the future and some of the problems which might come up within the next half-century.

The speaker observed that society has made arrangements to contribute to the support of its older citizens, but has made scant provisions for housing, medical care and recreation. He predicted greater problems as the years go by, observing that in 1900 only one out of 25 people were over 65. Now one out of each 12 people exceed that age and there are specialists who predict that by the turn of the century people in this age group will comprise 15% of the total population.

Guests were Lawrence Duncan and Carl Funk of Decatur and L. T. Winslow of White Hall.

Tentative plans for the annual Lions minstrel were also discussed.

Six-Year-Old Wins Share In Italy's Good Deed Awards

Milan, Italy, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Day by day six-year-old Nino Loece grew thinner and thinner.

Nino's mother watched and worried. Although they lived in San Severo in Italy's poverty-stricken Apulia province, the boy always was given enough to eat at home and plenty to take to school with him for his lunches.

Mother took Nino to a doctor. The doctor said he had malnutrition. It couldn't be, the mother protested. Then Nino confessed. He had lied. He had not eaten all the food he was given. Every day he had taken his plentiful lunch at school and given it to a little girl who hadn't enough to eat at home.

Nino's confession won him a share today in a $1,000 nationwide prize for good deeds.

Sangamon Man Speaks At W. S. C. S. Dinner

Dr. Harry W. McPherson of Springfield addressed approximately 175 members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Grace church after a dinner meeting held in the church dining rooms at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. The men of the church were special guests.

Dr. Frank Marston, after leading devotions, introduced the speaker, who stated that a Christian must have faith if he is to grow in mental stature. He said that the heart of any religion is its inner faith, and that all have an unconscious belief which they may not realize they possess. Lastly he declared that a study should be made of how to develop faith, for if it is not used it is lost; and from it we receive courage to advance.

Dr. Victor Roberts, superintendent of the Jacksonville district, gave the invocation before the delicious turkey dinner was served. Co-chairmen for the dinner were Mrs. Gaston Foote, Mrs. C. R. Short and Mrs. R. G. Baker.

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Buff, prayer.

Virginia Schools Serve In A Week 1800 Hot Lunches

Virginia — Approximately 1,800 meals were served to the students of the local schools during the first week the hot-lunch program was in operation. A well equipped kitchen with folding tables has been built in the little gymnasium, and in the present time four women are preparing the meals, assisted by students.

The program is made possible by the cooperation of local school authorities with the State Office of Public Instruction. The amount of aid received from the government depends upon the kind of lunch served. Virginia is on the type A program, which means a complete hot meal with milk must be served every day.

Surplus food commodities are given to the schools. Because of the aid the meals can be given to the students at a very low cost.

Typical menus of the past week were roast pork, mashed potatoes, green beans, jello salad, milk, ice cream bars; or beef and noodles, pea salad, bread and butter sandwiches, milk and ice cream bars.

The board of education feels that this is the most important project for the school system in recent years because it means so much to the physical welfare of every student. Consequently it is the desire of the board and Supt. E. L. Myers that all citizens of the community visit the gymnasium and see the program in actual operation.

Plans for the installation of officers for 1950 were made at the Virginia Kiwanis club meeting at the Legion Hotel Monday evening. Lt. Governor A. W. Morse will be in charge of the ceremony Monday evening, Jan. 9, which will also be ladies' night.

Westminster Reports Show Year Well Spent

Reports submitted at the annual pledges for the year paid, as well as expenses of installing a new kitchenette, and a balance remaining in the treasury. Miss Ainslie Moore, retiring president, reported as new officers: Mrs. Katherine Barr, president; Mrs. Mahala Bradish, vice president; Mrs. Harold Servoss, secretary; Mrs. Archer, treasurer. For the flower committee Miss Mabel Goltra reported on the decorations for all services, especially some memorial gifts for former members.

Miss Louise Holmes, treasurer of the Missionary society, stated that it had paid its apportionment to the Presbyterian society, had added $50 as opportunity giving, and had made other small donations.

No formal report was given by the music committee, but Dr. Ewert spoke of their provision for music for all services. A rising vote of thanks was given Miss Ainslie Moore for her years of direction of the choir.

Howard Stevenson for the rehabilitation committee stated that most of the work planned for the extensive restoring and redecoration of the building had been completed, although some minor details still remained. All bills have been paid to date.

Because of the illness of the treasurer, Mrs. George S. Rogerson, a complete financial statement was not ready, but Harold McCarty, who has been assisting her, said that subscriptions for the year 1950 indicated a balanced budget.

The treasurer for benevolences, Walter C. Rajohns, reported money sent to the various agencies of the church at large and some additional payments made to the Restoration fund for overseas aid.

Dr. Ewert presented the pastoral report on the condition of the church and of his own work in the various activities of the church and in the community. He also spoke of plans for the future, especially concerning the 50th anniversary of the present church building, to be held in April. He expressed his appreciation of the work done by organizations and individuals in the church and the assistance given him in his duties. Particular mention should be made of the service of Mrs. John H. Russell in providing hostesses for the covered-dish dinners throughout the year.

The clerk of the session, Philip Bradish, presented a report from the session suggesting that because of the activities in view in connection with the anniversary celebration, the rule for rotation of all officers be suspended for the year. The plan was unanimously adopted. It was also voted to increase the number of elders, and Harold Kamm, Clark Stevenson and William Ash were chosen for these positions.

Dr. Dean Gross and Reid Stevenson were elected to fill vacancies in the board of deacons.

Coroner's Jury Hears Evidence In Collision Fatal To Hutton Girl

Nobody was blamed, and nobody was absolved of blame in a coroner's jury verdict returned last night in the investigation of the death of Juanita Hutton, 17 year old Roodhouse girl. Miss Hutton, Roodhouse high school junior, died in Our Saviour's hospital Monday evening less than 24 hours after she was hurt in a three-car collision on foggy U.S. 67 the night before.

Six witnesses were examined and three certificates were read by the jury. After short deliberation the members found that Miss Hutton died of severe traumatic shock induced by fractures of both femurs, severe head injuries, multiple fractures of the jaw and body lacerations.

These injuries were sustained in an unusual accident which happened about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 1, when three cars driven by teen-agers from Roodhouse and Patterson collided on U.S. 67 slightly more than a mile south of Roodhouse.

All On Wrong Side The evidence submitted last night indicated that all three cars were on the wrong side of the road. Six of the 15 young people in the wreck are still at Passavant and Our Saviour's hospital. One of them is reported as being in a critical condition; the others are said to be making satisfactory improvement.

Coroner C. H. Muehlhausen conducted the inquest in the circuit courtroom.

Witnesses included Austin Shipley of Rural Route 1, Murraville, the first motorist at the scene of the accident; Orville Kelly of the Roodhouse police force; State Highway Patrolman W. C. Cuthbertson, White Hall; Gordon McClennan, Roodhouse youth; Russell Bowers, recently released from Passavant hospital, and Donald Bain of Patterson, driver of the third car.

Three Statements Read Statements read were given by James Gilmore of Roodhouse, driver of the northbound car; Robert Chapman of Roodhouse, driver of the southbound car, and Dr. Harold Norris, Miss Hutton's attending physician.

The right front end of both cars was badly damaged when the Chapman and Gilmore cars collided nearly head-on in the dense fog. Apparently both cars were in wrong traffic lanes at the time. A few moments later the Oldsmobile driven by young Bain missed the green Chapman car, but struck the black Chevrolet driven by Gilmore.

Six young people returning from Kampsville were in the Gilmore car; four were in the Chapman car; headed to White Hall, and five were in the Bain car, also enroute to White Hall.

In Front Seat Miss Hutton, the witnesses said, was riding in the front seat with Gilmore. She was imprisoned, and fatally injured, when the engine was knocked through the floor boards, squeezing her against seat which was knocked forward. The cars had to be moved and the door pried open before she could be released and placed in a waiting ambulance.

Only five spectators attended the inquest. Mrs. Nancy Schindler was the inquest attorney. Jury members were Charles Runkle, Donald Bates, Bennie Lane, Rita Patterson, Doc Goodrick and Harry Bray.
